MALT SHOPPE & TRAVELLING TREATS

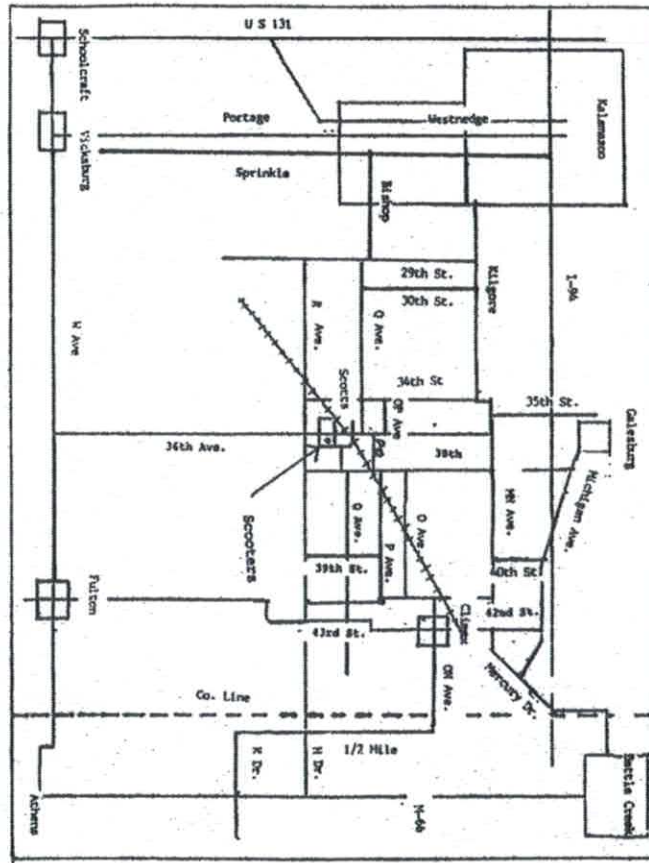

There's a treat awaiting you six miles south of I-94. Nestled in the center of Scotts -- a town you'll miss if you blink your eyes -- in a building that is over 100 years old, is an ice cream shoppe and restaurant that's a step back to the "good olde days."

Whether you take a drive to wander the trails of scenic Scott's Mill Pond, to visit the many historic cemeteries that surround the area, or simply to view Michigan's beautiful countryside, make a stop for a Saddle Shoe Sundae, an old fashioned soda, a malt, a phosphate, foot-long hot dog, pizza, deli sandwich, or a chef salad.

Step through the doors into the 50's. While you wait for your order, browse through old issues of Life magazine, view photos of Elvis Presley, inspect the collectibles, or listen to "The King", Patsy Cline, Fats Domino and dozens of 50's singers on the old-fashioned jukebox.

You'll find the atmosphere nostalgic, the servings generous, the prices right, and the food delicious.
